4 YEARS

Dedication:

We, the Senior Class of 1987, would like to express our appreciation and gratitude to you, Jane Southworth, for everything you have done these past four years.

We thank you for all the long nights you spent chaperoning dances and float meetings, for helping us meet all those deadlines and most of all for your complete dedication that sometimes seemed to go unnoticed, but was never unappreciated.

We have learned with the help of your guidance that we are capable of accomplishing anything we set our minds to. Because of this, our class has developed a sense of pride and spirit.

As we leave King Philip High School on graduation day we will take with us not only the memories of good friends, Homecoming floats and formal dances but also a fond remembrance of a special advisor.

CLASS HISTORY

In September 1982, the class of 1987 started their four year voyage through High School.
We started the year off with pizzaz under the leadership of Michelle McLaughlin-President, Sarah Doyle-Vice President, Erin Kelly-Secretary and Lisa Kuta-Treasurer. With the guidance of our class advisor, Miss Southworth, we took our first step toward success.
To increase our humble treasury, we sold candy and sponsored our first dance.
The first glimpse at our Class Spirit could be seen in our Homecoming float. Our Slogan was "Sharon's Eagles are due for ex-STINKtion." Although we didn't win the float competition, we were proud of our class and the football team, who held its own against the Sharon Eagles with a tie score.
On March 30, 1983, the Freshman-Sophomore Semi-Formal was held at The Coachman's Lodge in Bellingham. The theme was "Dance the Night Away." In spite of the loss of electricity in many homes, due to an unexpected blizzard, Jen Pomfret and Pam Fisher were able to capture the title of freshman princesses.
As our freshman year came to a close, we breathed a sigh of relief and looked toward the future with optimistic ideas.
We returned as sophomores one year older and one year wiser. Sarah Doyle, our new president, led the class assisted by Lisa Kuta-Vice President, Erin Kelly-Secretary and Keelan Muir-Treasurer. Once again Miss Southworth, our faithful advisor, was kept busy by our spirited class.
We increased our growing treasury with a canister sale, carnation sale and a Christmas dance with Jason Stockwell as Santa. All proved successful.
In Jean Stockwell's garage, we built our second Homecoming float. Our Slogan was "K. P. scores high against N. A.'s space invaders." Although our float did not win, we showed our class spirit and enthusiasm by winning both the Spirit Week trophy and the Loudest Class trophy at the Pep Rally. We were well on our way to being the greatest!!!
The Freshman-Sophomore Semi-Formal, held at Lakeview in Foxboro on March 30, 1984, was a success. Entertainment was provided by a live rock group. The Sophomores were beautifully represented by Karen Carlow as Queen, and Keelan Muir and Nancy DeBraie as Princesses. Everyone enjoyed themselves.
The Class of 1987 was half way to graduation, with the best yet to come!
Sara Doyle-President, Lisa Kuta-Vice President, Yvette Perron-Treasurer and Secretaries Audra Ayotte and Scott Mc Eachern led the class for our Junior Year. Miss Southworth was joined by Mrs. Lepere as our class advisor. They were behind us all the way with guidance and words of wisdom.
Jason Stockwell's garage was again the center of activity for the construction of our homecoming float. This year's slogan, "King Philip reigns over Oliver Ames," and our class spirit helped us win the float competition along with the Spirit Week and Pep Rally trophies.
Dances, a carnation sale and a magazine sale increased our abundant treasury.
The Junior-Senior Prom was on May 16, 1986 at The Royal Plaza Hotel in Marlboro. Our Junior Princesses were Kathy Kuza and Michelle Sewell.
We had established ourselves as one of the most spirited classes ever to walk the halls of King Philip.
The class of 1987 entered their Senior year with high hopes and Sarah Doyle-President, Lisa Kuta-Vice President, Audra Ayotte-Secretary and Jason Stockwell-Treasurer were there to fulfill them. Miss Southworth and Mrs. Lepere were again our advisors and helped us through our busy Senior year. Together they played a large part in making our last year the best.
Ute Reiter, an exchange student from Germany, joined our super class of 1987.
Our senior spirit overcame all obstacles when we won the Spirit week trophy for the third year in a row and built the only, and our best ever, homecoming float. At half-time our float's motto "Senior Spirit swats the Hornets" was paraded around the field. Our warriors succeded in swatting the Hornets that rainy night.
The Homecoming Queen Kathy Kuza and court, Jen Pomfret and Marla Rovendro, cheered on our winning warriors under umbrellas and the shelter of John Arsenault's van. Not even pouring rain could dampen the Class of 1987's Senior Spirit.
On November 20, 1986 our class sponsored a dance with Bob and Zip from WAAF as DJ's to earn money for our Senior Year Activities. A cookie sale in November and a carnation sale added to our treasury.
Our Senior Supper was enjoyed by all. To end our year with good memories we had our Junior-Senior Prom at the Sheraton in Mansfield.
On May 31, 1987 we received our diplomas. As we each go our separate ways we take with us memories that will bond us together forever and remind us of good friends, class spirit and enthusiasm that will help us make the impossible a reality.

It starts in the mind. Quietly. Just a small idea. And it grows, becoming an inspiration, perhaps even an obsession. Is shouts to be heard, to be expressed. It speaks of beauty. Of form. Of color. Of texture. It bursts forth in bold, daring creativity. And is admired. Acclaimed. It is a small part of the soul of its creator. It is Art.

Welcome to KP! "Alaska" Davis gave the guys' team extra home and an added edge.

The Boys Cross Country Team experienced a season of rebuilding this year; they lost several seniors but were successful in bringing out freshman recruits. Although they finished 3-5, most runners showed improvement. Capt. Dan Dow continued to crank out first place finishes, while our new man, Rich Davis, ran close at his heels, and sometimes finished ahead. Todd Tomkinson was also a key runner with his stamina and consistency.

The Dows each recover in their own way from Dan's race.

A. Cosentino, S. Widak, and T. Meyers show different ways of holding a racquet.

The success of the 1986 King Philip Girls Tennis Team was due to the fine overall commitment by the entire team. The team ended up finishing third in the league with an outstanding record of 11-5, and it qualified for the state team tournament. KP drew Archbishop Williams in the first round of the states, and the result was a resounding and hard fought victory. In the second round, KP lost to Hingham, who in turn won the entire state championship. Sarah Tierney should be commended for winning the post season Hockomock Singles Championship. Among other superb varsity players were L. Cyrulik, A. Cosentino, J. Meyer, S. Widak, M. Reid, and S. Mick. Some important J.V. contributors were H. Strohl, K. Wessinger, and L. Operach.

Coach Goldberg explains the finer points of winning.

Despite having lost four out of seven starting varsity players, the boys varsity tennis team was very respectable in the 1986 season. Led by co-captains, B. Blinco and G. Fortier, they finished seventh in the league with a 3-13 record. Our team, though young and inexperienced, improved greatly as the season progressed. We hope to see all our new "recruits" return this spring. "I was very satisfied with the team's performance this year. They were a great bunch of kids to work with and the team's morale and spirit were tremendous . . ." Coach Dwyer. Unsung hero: G. Fortier. M.V.P.: J. Benson. 1987 Co-captains: G. Fortier, J. Benson.

THE K.P. PROPHET

SPACE PROGRAM UPBEAT

Last month, President Browne and Vice President Turco opened a new space program. They encouraged selected citizens to embark in a career of space exploration. Volunteers immediately materialized. We would like to officially commend and congratulate Matthew Lazzara who now controls the Earth's weather through his satellite headquarters.

We also have three other promising explorers: Mike Kearns is already preparing for his second orbit of Pluto; Peter Sandberg has entered the 4th dimension in search of the Battle Star which he has named Galactica; and Craig DeRuisseau is credited with the discovery of lint on Neptune.

Stemming from the space exploration hype, it has also become popular to actually live in space: Mark Bibby was so taken with the space program that he moved there along with his wife and one hundred kids; Paul Peterson has taken up residence on the moon; and D. Ruprecht is a full time space inhabitant. They all have reported high real estate values.

Peaceful Discoveries

There has been a spread of peaceful, easy feelings among several key U.S. Citizens. They have found they must be at one with themselves before they are at one with the world. Because each person is an individual, they all have varying methods for attaining their own tranquility. John Arsenault was observed by his prying neighbors, and left his house in a van with a half tank of gas and a bag of Doritos. It is assumed that he trekked off to catch the sun.

Kathy Collins has taken into her private possession a peaceful, non-nuclear spot of the world. Here, she innocently spreads the word of such an existence where every person can get along with his brothers. Scott Kammerer rents a small, lovely apartment in L.A., and for recreation, he drives his Toyota and allows his stomach to gurgle with hunger. Perhaps he should use some rent money to buy McDonald's food.

Sharon Paul is on a sabbatical from her movie career. She presently resides in a woodland cottage, living a natural and happy life. Joanne Bruneau teaches mindreading to interested bystanders, and learns her scales with hours of practice. To all those in search of peace, the world is an illusion, and the self is the only reality . . . without the self there is nothing.

Who's Who In Business

. . . . . Nathan Snow has been named head manager at the National Teddy Bear Factory, "Snow Teddy's".

. . . . . Barbara Parmenter celebrates her 10th Anniversary of "Barb's Babes" a day care center owned and run by Barbara herself.

. . . . . John Lougee has been named Automotive Technician of the Month. He has been fixing all the U.S. Army jeeps which were wrecked by Rick Zerrien.

. . . . . Michelle McCartin has appointed Kim Boone chief accountant of her chain of laudromats.

. . . . . Erick Kuceris has been granted approval for a new "Egghead" factory in Hollywood.

. . . . . and Wendy Gage has recently been named "Yodel of the Year" for eating the most yodels with fellow yodeler Marina Leuthold.

Public Opinion Poll

Well, lately our public majority was polled as to where their main interests have been buried. Suprisingly, there a whole lot of people who are fully satisfied by the mere state of being overwhelmed with more money than they know what to do with. Marina Leuthold, Kim Armour (who incidentally lives in Wyoming), Elke DeBraie, a member of German royalty, Jefff Payne, Tim Lawless, Tracey McDonald, James Sabbag, Sheryl Washer, Bill Bourgue, Michelle Lavalley, and Charlene Roche who claim addresses in Boston, NY, Rio, Buenos Aries and Bogata. All fall in this distinguished category. And then, of course there are quite a few who prefer to be happily married with several, if not more, children. These people include Sue Bickley, Cheryl DeGeorge, Kristen Lee Volz, Lance Lewicki, Beth Grazado-who helps support her kids by working at RoJack's. Dana Boynton-who has a side career, I'm sure you all know, in politics. Jen Byron, Keith Megee, Kim Vincent, Karne Wagstaff, Christine Verna, Nica Vernon-who raises her family in the Phillipine slands while caring for natives, Scott Dillman-who chums around with the likes of Jimi Page, Nancy Krajewski, Donella Nelson, Mary Ellen Gillis who has a boutique as well as a husband and 4 children, Lori Liversedge who lives in the wilderness of Maine with Scott and 10 kids, Claire Smith, Simone Neveur, Mary Costa, Kari Gaudet, Tracey Paquete and Lisa Morrissett-who's married name is Gedman.

And then, there are always those who prefer to confuse the pollsters by sending in their replies, too late to be counted in the tally, but never too late to be printed.

P.J. O'Connor is living life to its fullest extent? We all would love to know just what this extent includes.

Ute Reiter has returned to the U.S., and resides in New Yorks Central Park, in a big house along with 5 kids and an adoring husband. Jeni MacMurray is married to a hunk and lives barefoot in the woods. Kevin Lockwood is happily married to C.H. Congratulations Kevin! Fred Hurder is defying gravity by living on the side of a mountain in either France or England.

Michelle Giarrusso is doing anything that can be classified as better than she doing in 1987.

Helen Desper has three kids, a husband, and owns a day care center. Nancy DeBraive and Jeff Granito are married, and live in Bermuda. She spends her time at the beach, while Jeff runs the largest unions in America and Europe combined.

Joanne Secky is one of the most wealthy, most single woman entrepreneurs known. She is the owner of a black Corvette, a black Jaguar, a black Saab, a white Porsche, and a black Celica for slumming. Each of these vehicles are parked in her driveway of her East Hampton home.

Fashion Rivalry . . . .

Top Fashion designers Allyson Walsh and Colleen Walsh have announced their first European fashion show to be held next month in Paris. Last week Gretchen Jones held her own show the most successful in the fashion world. in charge of advertising was Rachel Bremlist and Kelle O'Neil, the best choices for the job.

Uninvited Guests

Worldwide News

A rare unusual occurrence has been observed at various vacation resorts worldwide. Over 300 whales have been washed up on the shores of popular beaches all over the world. According to Bob Insani owner of 90% of the California beaches, "These whales are ruining my life. No one will come to a beach and share the sun with a whale, not even Michelle Sewel and Lynne Casavant, my faithfu beach combers." James Lincoln has been flying frantically between the beaches of California and Hawaii trying to save these poor sea animals. Lincoln's parnter, Leigh-Ann Haddleton, who is also trying to save the whales, has traced their sickness back to a criuseship, The Quinby II. Headchef Todd Quinlan has been know to throw the leftovers over board where these whales have been feeding. In Hawaii the whales have made life miserable for three beachbums, Sandy Morse, Lisa Vendetti, and Sherry Stearns. They refuse to go to the beach with sunbathing whales and they can't take a vacation elsewhere due to Delta Airlines' pilot Dave Hobbs, who is volunteering his planes to transport the whles to a nearby aquarium.

Off the coast of Jamaica, two former KP students got the right idea. Scott MacEachern, with the millions he won from Megabucks and Tom Brennick, each purchased a yacht and a bag of sand and made their own beach off shore.

In Australia, the same whale conditions were noted by Trici Lang while shooting photographs for her playgirl magazine. Also from Australia, legal action was taken against the whales. Scott Hardy claims the whales are trespassing on her property. Actually his No Trespassing signs are no longer visible due to a careless motorist, Kristen Faulkner, who ran them over.

From the Carribean, Chris Birlbeck claims his beachcombing hobby no longer amuses him, because the beaches are being occupied by the whales. Troops are working as fast as possible to clear the beaches. Lori Martisius is helping out by providing complementary tanning lotion for the workers.

Back on the east coast, this same whale occurence is taking place on the Florida beaches. Billionaire Cathie Miller has donated a million dollars to the Save the Whale Fund. She claims she'll do anything to prevent her neighbor Pam Fisher from keeping guys inside instead of on the beaches. Other donations have also been made. The infamous Mark Hooper has also donated a large sum of money.

Tidal Wave Report

"Down on the beach, the waves do reach and subside with eternity's timing. Counting away since the earth's first day, the music of nature, not rhyming." Having written these words, Jason Chandler is scraping out a meager existence by the sole means of creativity while being satisified with plunging into the tides. At the same time, Holly Mae is living in a peeling yellow beach house in VA, with mountains in the backyard and the ocean in the front. She works in a free counseling center for kids and throws herself into painting, running and watching the flow of the tides.

Foreign Unrest!

Last night, Joe Tennyson, who recently took over the position of Director of ABC Nightly News, aired a flash report unearthed by Middle East Reporter Tavis Morse. Tavis sent word of the continued unrest in Lybia. If you care to remember, Glenn Gillespie staged a coup in Lybia and successfully threw Quadafie out of office. However, within a week of G.G.'s title-claim, Kathy Kuza was observed, sneaking over the border leading a pack of Anti-Gillespie Rebels.

Washington, D.C.

Several evenings ago, a terrible occurance took place that shocked the nation. The White House, home of our newly elected president, Mrs. Helen Brennan, was severly toilet papered: After days of investigation by members of the local police force, Glen Eykel and Rich Hurd, the perpetrators were traced back to being members of surprisingly enough, K.Ps class of 1987. Sarah Doyle and Norm Gerric, represented by attorney Jill Raymond, are awaiting trial for orgainizing and leading the Crew in this terrible toilet paper attack. The toilet paper was traced back to being purchased at Tricia's Tantalizing TP Inc., featuring a new line of creative toilet paper designed and owned by Tricia Troiano.

Sports Watch

Today, Lisa Kuta was seen hugging her six blonde children after breaking the Boston Marathon time record. Also, a city fire department worker, Danny Dow, has just qualified to run in the 2008 Olympic Marathon.

Kathy Kuza, the first woman coach ever of the Boston Celtics, has just fired the Athletic Director Ray Melchiorre and replaced him with Kari Palos. Gary Fortier's fantistic dribbling, passing, and shooting has brought the Celtics a demolishing victory (142 to 80) over the 76ers.

For those of you who are Shawn Brown fans, there is some awful news! He has retired from his N.F.L. position but has taken the head coaching job at K.P. from retired Mike Pariseau.

If you want muscles and a flat stomach, Nicole Damato's health spa is for you. Also, for good looks while you're working out, purchase some of her own fitness clothing. Here's another idea: Rob Kelly and Kevin Molloy are teaching aerobics in Los Angeles. They are advised to buy their uniforms and hightops from Sara Bodemer.

But if you really want to achieve physical fitness we have heard through the iron grapevine that the only way to tone up is to frequent Gold's Gym. In fact, Jim Barrett (who leaked this information) is there lifting at this moment!

In our wrap-up, we'd like to remind you to catch some sports tonight. That's right! Sit down and watch T.V.! You can watch the Boston Red Sox game featuring Paul Cataldo as starting pitcher followed by one of those great cycle races. Hank Boscher, 125cc National Motorcross Champ is favored to win. And what's more, Glenn Topping, who just took over Bob Lobel's job, will be on hand after the events to bring you play-by-play reruns.

Success Stories

Well known member of the Mafia, Bill Hartford, has recently hit the million dollar mark for his work in the Mafia. This makes him only the second millionaire who struck it rich in this line of work. The first being Lisa McPherson, now a retired member of the Mafia.

On The Move . . . . .

If you've got an itch and want to use up energy try your foot in the world of travel. Locally, you can travel in groups of four, as Kim Vincent, Nancy Wales, Carol Harper, and Cheryl Harper, are doing around Franklin for only the price of your gas and your stops at Kerry Balise's self service McDonalds. If more distance is your style you can try traveling the world with Sue LaCourse, Kelly McDaugh, and Marla Rovendro, either by boat, foot, plane. For the extreme leisure people, you can follow in the footsteps of Veronica Heise and travel to "destination unknown."

At The Movies . . . . . .

If you're into more chilling, thrilling, and backstabbing events, check, out the latest at the movies. Yes, its time for "Jason" to come alive again in Friday the 13th-Part 13. Starring as Jason Bates is Todd Miner along with actress Karen Carlow, as his mother who has come back to haunt him. Another motion picture "Hardbodies 5" directed by Julie Larsen will soon be showing in cinemas near you.

What's Happening . . . .

A once local band, lead by V.J. Panettiere is on its 2nd world tour playing the Centrum Aug. 31 with main attraction, Vocalist Kenny Rounds who performs clad in unique jewelry hanging form odd parts of the face and topped with green hair. Pieces of his hair have been found and sent to a chemistry lab where chemist Audia Ayotte is investigating the cause of the color green.

This weekend come see the official suds Tasting Contest which will take place on Tony Signore's private island off the coast of the Carribean. The events will be highlighted by the reigning champion taster Bill Bullock, who was awarded his title last year after former champion Eric Kennedy faced charges for Jay riding suds trucks across country. He claims he was only doing his job.

If this island is a bit too far away, you can always stay close to home and still have as much fun. Just give Jay Murray a call and you can go along with him to Gary's and Nate's parties.

PERSONALS

Anyone interested in learning to speak with those distinguishable Boston accents, contact Dawn Derham in Tennessee.

A group of scientists are searching for Cissy Yatsuhashi. They wish her to be the object of a study on incessant giggling.

Brian Dunn crashed his Porsche twice between record albums and is now riding a bike. He is looking for a tape player that will balance on his handlebars.

At Pomronis Night Club Jen Pomfret appears as a belly dancer twice a week, while Ann Leveroni performs imitations as a duck-woman.

Kelly, Marl, and Cheryl need someone to drive them around, since their chauffer Shaun McMorrow is tired of listening to their cheerleading baloney.

Heather Stohl is practicing her grand piano in her NY penthouse for Carnegie Hall. Rhonda Mullen would appreciate any information leading to the discovery of LeighAnn and Mike at Great Woods.

Kevin Connolly needs someone to install hot water for his whirlpool.

There are still a few passages left to watch Jane Bachelier in her competion with the Harmonettes in Egypt.

Sue Oliver, was deported and is now Prime Minister of Canada.

Any information leading to the finding of Jon Gallagher might be appreciated. He was last seen measuring the amount of sediment in a cubic yard of water in the Yellow River. The producers of "Leave It To Beaver" are searching for Steve Grant.

On their way to New Mexico Jason Stockwell and Steve Phelan discovered a way to happily jam with Jimmy Hendrix in Heaven.

Donald Berry is living in this year of 2007. This publication would appreciate notification of his life & loves.

Competing for best engineering are Joseph Davis and Brett Robbines. Mike Fallon was supposed to be competing but was detained on Richard Guerins's Jamican Plantation.

Todd Schwalbe was arrested for counterfeiting money at Nicole Damato's Health Spa. Lynda Cyrulik is closing in on the fitness club craze by opening 40 new spas across the U.S.

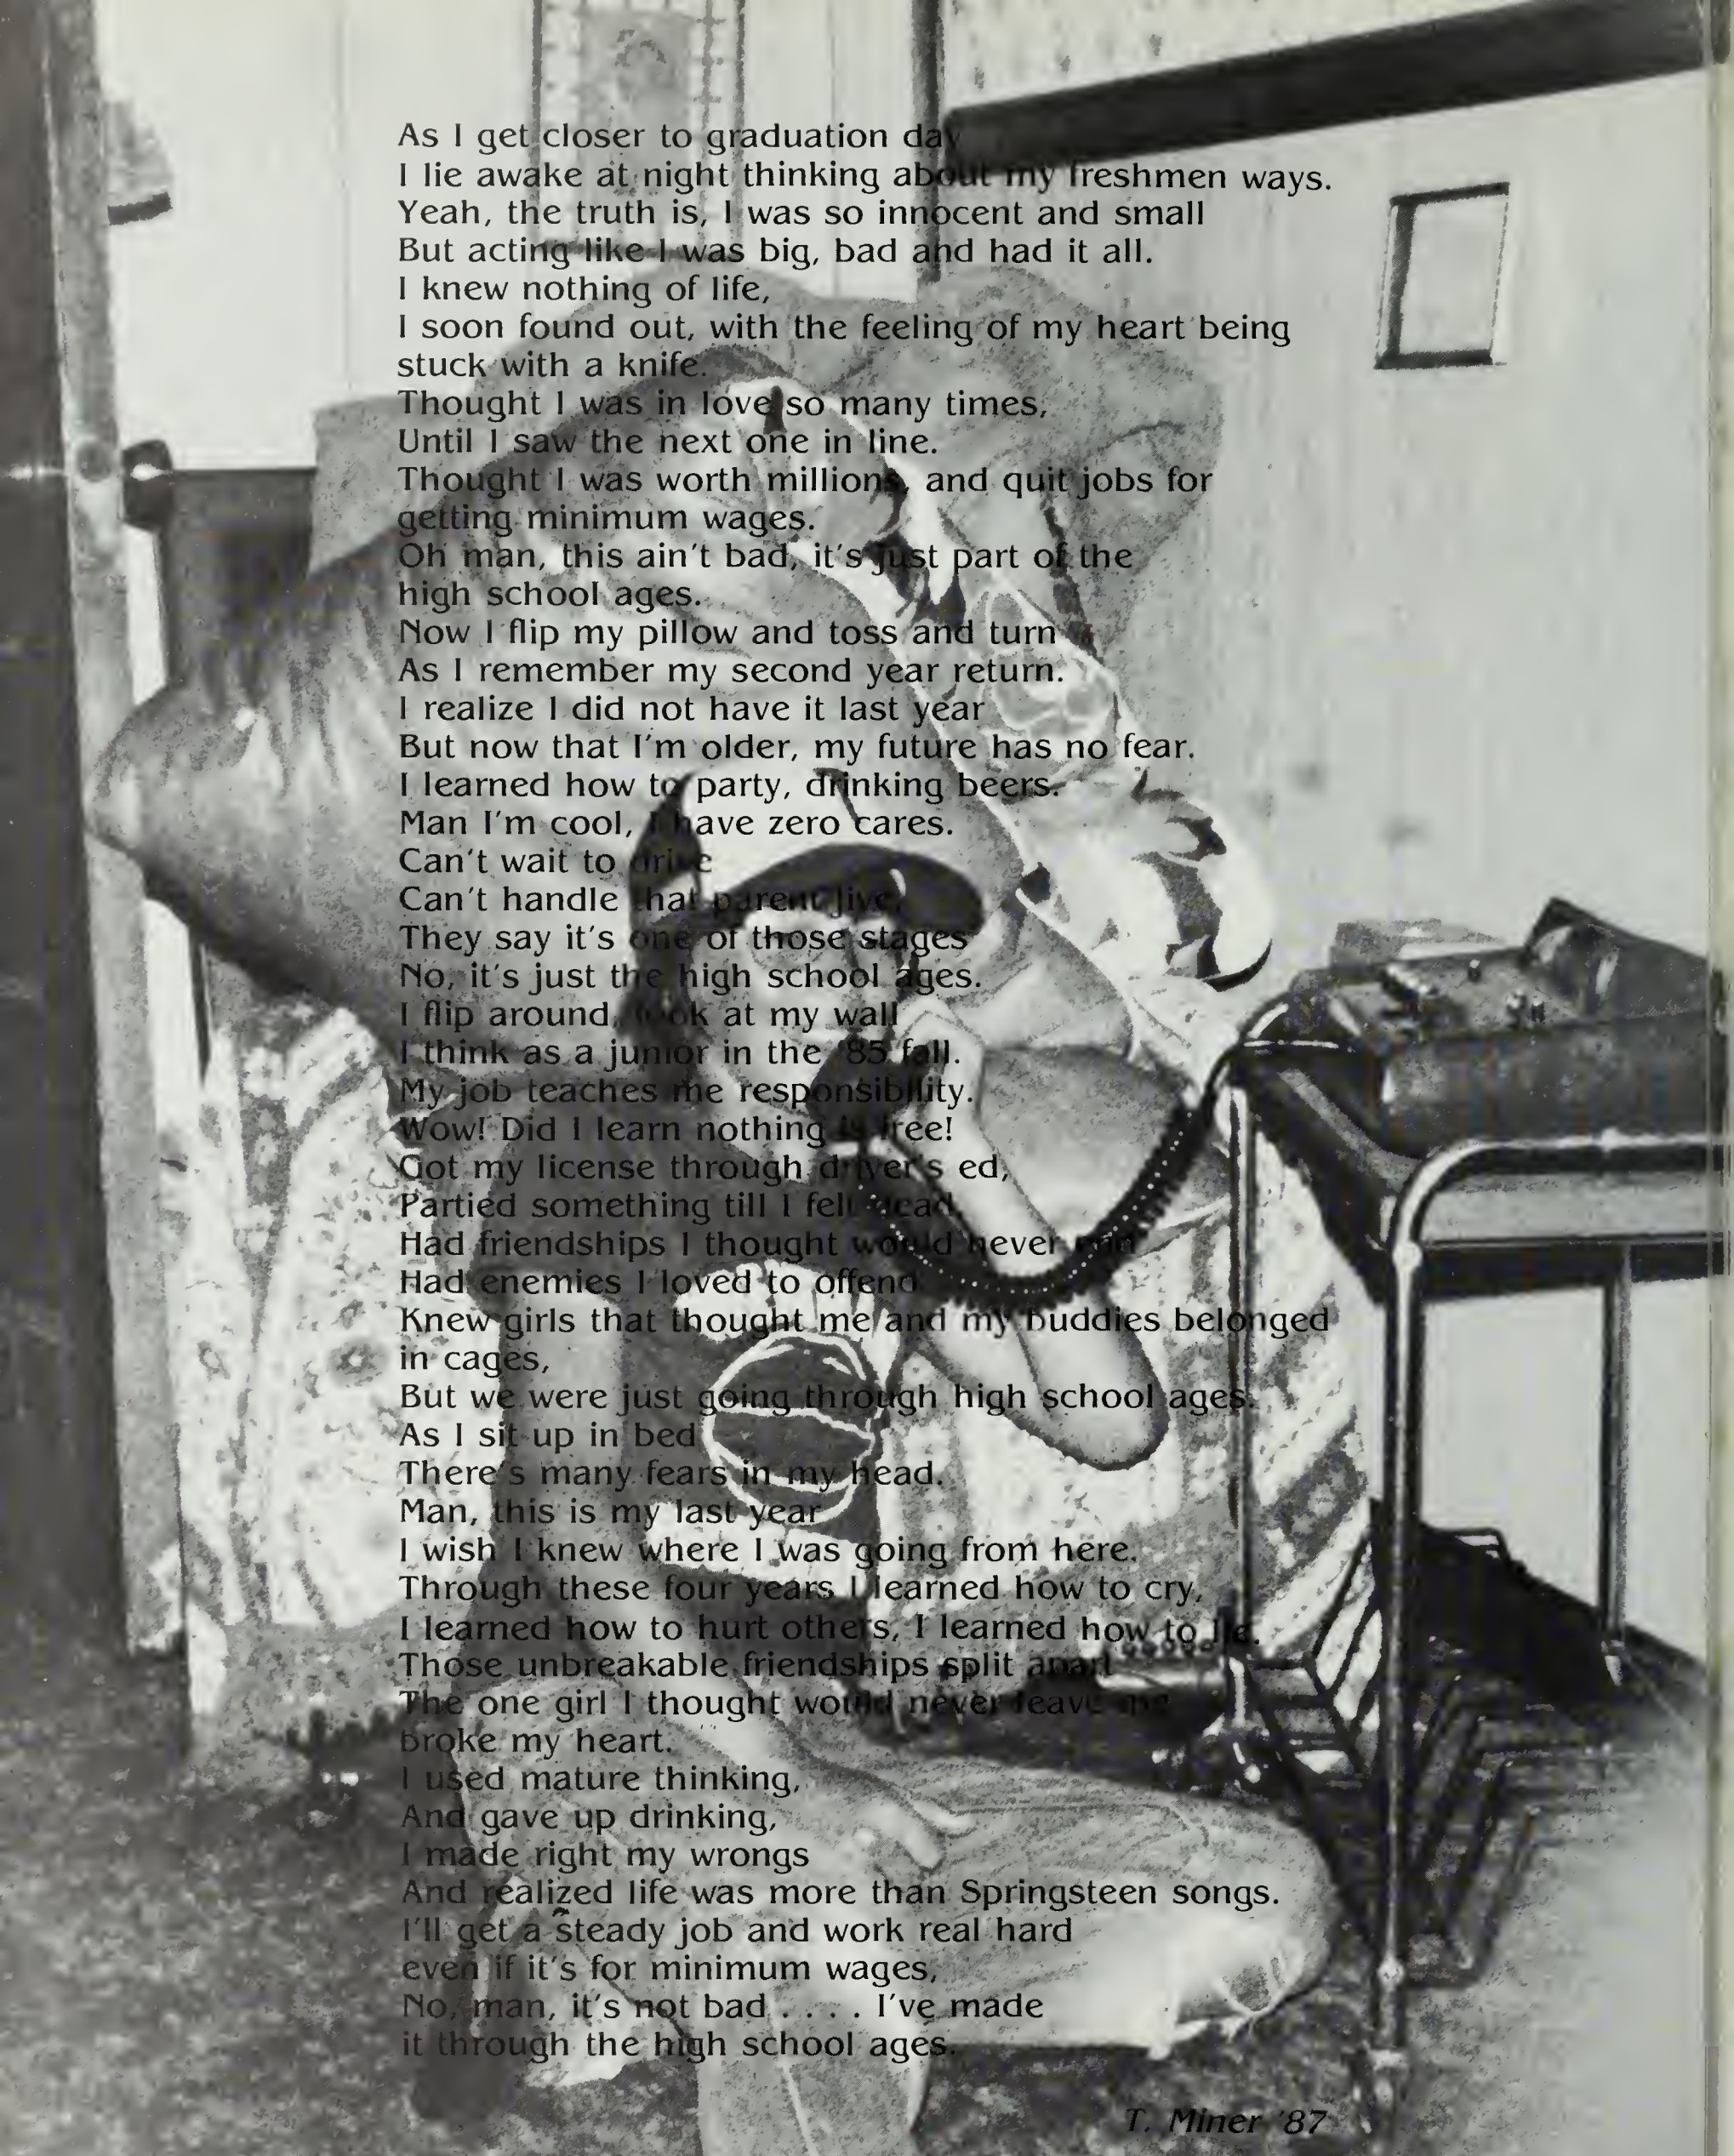
Friends



As I get closer to graduation day
I lie awake at night thinking about my freshmen ways.
Yeah, the truth is, I was so innocent and small
But acting like I was big, bad and had it all.
I knew nothing of life,
I soon found out, with the feeling of my heart being stuck with a knife.
Thought I was in love so many times,
Until I saw the next one in line.
Thought I was worth millions, and quit jobs for getting minimum wages.
Oh man, this ain't bad, it's just part of the high school ages.
Now I flip my pillow and toss and turn
As I remember my second year return.
I realize I did not have it last year
But now that I'm older, my future has no fear.
I learned how to party, drinking beers.
Man I'm cool, I have zero cares.
Can't wait to drive
Can't handle that parent jive,
They say it's one of those stages
No, it's just the high school ages.
I flip around, look at my wall
I think as a junior in the '85 fall.
My job teaches me responsibility.
Wow! Did I learn nothing is free!
Got my license through driver's ed,
Partied something till I fell dead.
Had friendships I thought would never end
Had enemies I loved to offend
Knew girls that thought me and my buddies belonged in cages,
But we were just going through high school ages.
As I sit up in bed
There's many fears in my head.
Man, this is my last year
I wish I knew where I was going from here.
Through these four years I learned how to cry,
I learned how to hurt others, I learned how to lie.
Those unbreakable friendships split apart
The one girl I thought would never leave me broke my heart.
I used mature thinking,
And gave up drinking,
I made right my wrongs
And realized life was more than Springsteen songs.
I'll get a steady job and work real hard even if it's for minimum wages,
No, man, it's not bad . . . . I've made it through the high school ages.
